

HOME > Mid-Law

Brief

Longtime Phillips Lytle Real Estate Atty Joins Hodgson Russ

By Adrian Cruz | 2024-05-31 15:35:07 -0400 · Listen to article

Hodgson Russ LLP announced that an experienced real estate attorney who's spent over a decade with Buffalo, New York-based Phillips Lytle LLP joined the firm's corporate and securities practice as a partner.

Patrick T. Fitzgerald joined Hodgson Russ' Buffalo office last month after a two-year stint with Phillips Lytle. He also spent nine and a half years during his first period at his prior firm before an eight-month stint as chief executive officer at FCR Capital Holdings, according to his LinkedIn page.

Patrick T. Fitzgerald

"Hodgson Russ is a highly-regarded, deeply-respected law firm with a tradition of providing unmatched service to its clients," Fitzgerald told Law360 Pulse on Friday. "The firm's corporate & business practice is regularly recognized for its excellence and acumen and will provide significant resources for my clients to utilize. Very simply, Hodgson Russ is a great fit for me and my private equity and private fund clients."

A graduate of the State University of New York at Buffalo Law School, Fitzgerald focuses his practice on real estate investment matters and complex transactions for a wide range of clients including investment funds, general partners, limited partners and real estate developers, Hodgson Russ said. The firm added that he also has experience advising on real estate governance matters.

Hodgson Russ has over 200 attorneys located across its offices in Buffalo, Rochester, Albany, New York City, Toronto and Palm Beach, Florida.

--Editing by Patrick Reagan.

Correction: A previous version of this article incorrectly named one of Fitzgerald's previous workplaces. The error has been corrected.